VOL. LXL-NO. 174.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1894-COPYRIGHT, 1894, BY THE SUN PRINTING AND PUBLISHING ASSOCIATION.

MUSTN'T INSULT THE FLAG.

A JERSETMAN MAY HIT AN ANARCH-

IST WHO DOES SO ON THE NOSE.

That Saems, Practically, to Be the Outcom of the Trial of Jageph Schules, Whose Blow Led to the Death of Frank Kreiger,

"If any man hauls down the American flag,

GREENHALOR CHECKED THE MCS. Moston's Unemployed Invade the State House to Demand Work.

BOSTON, Feb. 20.—A fairly well organized mob of about 5,000 of the hungry unemployed of this city gathered on the Common in front of the State House this afternoon to listen to addresses by Morrison I. Swift, Herbert J. Casson, and other Socialist-Anarchists, as they call themselves. After hearing the speeches the crowd marched to the State House, where Swift and Casson were appointed delegates to visit Gov. Greenhalge. The Governor granted Swift an interview in the executive chamber and consented to go out on the steps and address the gathering.

Gov. Greenhalge talked about five minutes. assuring the men of his sympathy for their sufferings. He pointed out the difficulties in the way of granting State relief, but expresse the opinion that the Legislature would respond to any practicable petition for furnish ing State employment. After the Governor

The Governor told him that the remark he had made was very obnoxious, and that that kind of talk would not be tolerated in the State House: that, while these men were at liberty to come there in a peaceable way for the redress of any grievance or to better their condition, no seditious or anarchistic utterances would be permitted.

Finally Lieut Donovan and fifty patrolmen marched up the great steps to the State House and into Dorie Hall, where the orders of the Governor were awaited. Orders were given to clear the State House and grounds of all intruders, using as little force as necessary. This was but the work of a mement, for the mere sight of the brass buttons was enough to quell all violent tendencies. Folicemen were then stationed near all the approaches to the State offices, and none but those having business were allowed to bass.

Hepresentative Mellen of Worcester presented a petition eigned by Morrison I. Switt to the Legislature, later in the alternoon, asking for its attention to the condition of the unemployed. The House appointed a committee to consider the question.

After leaving the State House grounds the mob marched back to the Common, where more incendiary speeches were made, and toward night the crowd dispersed.

was a member of the Megantic Fish and Game Club, which has a big reservation of land at Spider Lake, Quebec, and Howe was steward of the club. Howe's pretty 20-year-old wife fendant.

Mr. Woodruff is not going to have Mr. Howe bound over to keep the peace.

It was said last evening that the jury were in practical agreement, but that one juror wanted to give Howe six cents damages and stood out for this verdict.

Edward S. Stokes got a verdict for the secon time, yesterday, in his suit against John W. Mackay, the silver king, and Hector de Castro. This time it is for $91,500, an increase over the verdict on the first trial, which was $88,875. On the first trial, before Justice Ingraham, the Court directed the verdict. The General Term affirmed the judgment, but the Court of Ap-peals, by a vote of four to three, reversed the peals, by a vote of four to three, reversed the judgment, holding that the case should have been submitted to the jury. It was given to the jury on this trial with the above result.

Stokes averred that in 1884 Mackay, through De Castro as agert, agreed to bay him $100.000 and cancel $70,000 of claims held against C. H. Read & Co. for advances, when Stokes should have secured the United Lines' and Hankers' and Marchants' Telegraph securities and turned them over to Mackay. Stokes performed his part of the contract and received $25,000 on account. The suit was for the balance, $75,000. Mackay dealed Stokes's allegation. He repudiated the contract, and put in a counter-claim for the $570,000 he had lent to Head & Co., with six years' interest. The jury did not allow this counter-claim, and Stokes's lawyers say that the verdict really obliterates it. Plaintiff's lawyers were Joseph H. Choate, Samuel Untermeyer, and ex-Judge Ezek Cowen. The defendants were represented by Hilhu Root, Joseph Larocque, and Charles E. Lydecker.

FOUND SITTING DEAD AT HER WINDOW.

Old Mary Councily Lived Alohe and Had Money to Three Savings Bunks, Mary Connolly, an aged spinster, lived alone in a little room at 89 Baxter street. She had few friends, but the neighbors said that she had worked hard all her life and had a nest

She was seen on Monday climbing up stairs to her room. Late in the afternoon Mrs. Sullivan, the wife of a saloon keeper in the building, noticed that one of her windows was wide open. At bedtime the window was still open, and Mrs. Sullivan began to think that something was wrong. She thought so much about it that at 2 o'clock yesterday morning she made her husband get up to see about it. Sullivan climbed up the fire escape, and, leaning over the sill of the open window, looked into the room. Then he discovered the old woman sitting dead near the window.

She had swidently died from heart disease. Under the bed were found three tank books, representing deposits amounting to $3,288.70 in the Bisecker Street, Bowerr, and Industrial Savings banks. There was also a wad of bank bills and chance amounting to $102.17. The nearest relatives of the dead woman live in Jersey City and Port Jervis.

ANOTHER HICCOUGH FICTIM.

Brownsville district in Brooklyn, has been suffering from hiccoughs for nearly six weeks, and is is now in a critical condition. He is a Jow, and the hiccoughs bestan on Jan. I'd after he had esten a piece of uniseven bread. He has been attended by Dr. Jacob Fuhs and Dr.
W. Boehm, and has also been treated at the Mount Sinai Hosnital.

Dr. Fuhs said Yesterday that he thought the patient had a fair change for his life. The result in the case of the Newark sufferer was, he thought discouraging for an operation. Five years ago Bach receivered from almost as severe as attack of the hiccoughs.

Mrs. Hosnek's Body Had Been Partly Prepared for Burtal, PERTH AMBOY, Feb. 20 .- Mrs. Jane Hozack, aged 83 years, had been suffering for some time with a complication of ailments, principally disease of the heart.

When her daughter, Mrs. Warren Herriott, went into the sick room on Sunday afternoon she was alive, but soon she became still and

In a few minutes all evidences of life ceased. and the family made preparations for the funeral. As the undertaker was busy, he did not ar-

As the undertaker was busy, he did not arrive until noon on Monday, when the body was partly prepared for the coffin.

He was to return at 3 in the afternoon. While Mra Herroitt was busy in the death chamber, she discovered a twitching of the muscles in her mother's face.

She could not move from the spot to call her hushand on account of fear, though she says she tried hard to raise her voice.

Finally one of the children happened to enter the room. The child saw that something was the matter with her mother, and, without noticing Mrs. Hosack, ran for her father.

When Mr. Herriott came in from the adjoining room he saw his wife in a dead faint on the floor and Mrs. Hosack sitting upright in bed. He could hardly believe his eyes.

Mrs. Hosack lived for three hours, muttering and gesticulating queerly. At 0:30 she died. The doctor who had been attending Mrs. Hosack took Mr. Herroitt's word for it on buaday evening that the woman was dead.

YOUNGS ARRESTED IN WASHINGTON. Confesses that He Stole $500 from the Chel-

sen Apartment House, WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. - Edward P. Youngs. about 40 years old, of New York city, was a prisoner in the police court here to-day on a charge of earrying concealed weapons. In his pocket was found a clipping from a New York newspaper of Feb. 3, which said that Edward P. Youngs, clerk of the Chelsea apartment house, who had been discharged and was thought to have stolen $500 and some disdisappeared from the city and could not be the $500, but denied that he knew anything about the diamonds. He was held to await the action of the New York authorities.

Voungs was cierk of the Cheisea until Jan. 2 of this year, when $500 was missing which it was suspected he had taken, and he was discharged. He had been living at 136 East Fiftleth street. On Dec. 2 last some diamonds were stolen from the apartments of Mrs. Townsend was subsequently arrested and accused of the theft.

Detective, Heidelborg, who had the case, found that Youngs had been associating with evil characters, and also that he had keys to Mrs. Ballard's apartments. When these facts were presented to Justice Taintor on Feb. 2 he discharged Mrs. Townsend.

THREE KILLED, FOUR WOUNDED, The Result of a Jealous Husband's Random Shots in a Rallway Station.

Houston, Tex., Feb. 20.-Last night in the Grand Central station, while the platform was crowded with persons waiting for trains, Jim Mitchell of Richmond began shooting at a man named York from Eagle Lake. It appears that Mitchell had married a woman from Eagle Lake, who, after living with him for two months, deserted him and wont back to Eagle Lake, making her home with York.

Last night Mitchell, who was waiting for his father and brother, espied York. He opened fire, which was promptly returned, York fall-ing after the second shot. Mitchell kept up his murderous fubiliage until he had fired six shots.

shets.

The result was that in addition to York.

The result was that in addition to York.

Milton Sparks, an Eagle Lake constable, and Dan Gleason, an omnibus driver, were killed.

Sparks's wife and brother, and a child Mrs.

Sparks was carrying, were wounded, as was also a Mrs. McDowell. The latter and the constable's brother are not expected to recover.

Mitchell was arrested.

BROKE JAIL IN MORRISTOWN. Two Convicts Got a Revolver and Cow the

65 Carmine street, had his throat slashed with razor on Monday night by his nineteen-year-MORRISTOWN, N. J. Feb. 20.-George and old son Herman. Dr. Arnold Burkelman of 3 Henry Morgan escaped from jail to-night. Charlton street, who was called in, found that When Keeper Munson went to lock the men the external carotid artery had been severed and that there were two gashes on Thiel's in their cells as usual at 7% he was confronted with an ugly looking revolver in the hands of neck, each about eight inches long, extending wenty-two stitches to close the wounds. Thiel at the point of the revolver while Henry went

They then walked out of the prison and out of the front door of the Court House. The out of a front window, ran over the awning of keeper could not follow immediately as he keeper could not follow immediately as he had to watch the other prisoners, who were near the open door. A pease was immediately summoned, and they are scouring the woods for the fleeling men.

How they got the revolver is a mystery. The Morgan boys were convicted of burglary and were sentenced yesterday to two and a half years each in the State prison. They were to be taken there to-morrow.

He Denies the Rumor of an Impending Duci With Fred May.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Col. William F. Cody arrived here from Washington resterday. As to a rumor that he had called on a friend at St. Paul to act as his second in a duel with Fred Paul to act as his second in a duel with Fred May, the Colonelsaid: "I am not going to fight a duel with anybody. May has not challenged me and I am sure I have not challenged."

Upon his arrival here Col. Cody found a telegram awaiting him from Dr. Frank Fowell, Mayor of La Crosse. Wis. saying: "I am yours to commandion all occasions and in every emergency." This undoubtedly gave rise to the rumor that she had asked a Northwestern friend to act as his second. The Colonel and Dr. Fowell have been close friends for a long time.

HANOVER, N. H., Feb. 20.-The Dartmouth College sophomores and freshmen held their class banquets to-night. Last night a committee of robust sophomores went to the room of Henry Terryl of Brooklyn, the freshman or neary terry; or processys, the freshman toastmaster, and carried him off by force. He was taken to White River Junction in a sleigh and left at an inn there in charge of a sophomore. When the kidnapping was discovered this morning Fresident Tucker of the college ordered the sophomores to return Terry; to his classmates, and also to indefinitely positions their own banquet. At a class meeting they afterward decided to do neither. To-night the freshmen discovered Terryl's hiding place. They overpowered his guard, and carried him away in triumph to preside at their banquel.

Decided Against the Gold Cure Law, Laxsino, Mich., Feb. 20.—The Supreme Court this morning gave, some think, the "Gold Curs" law its death blow. It reversed the decision of Judge Kelley of Alpena, who ordered the Supervisors to pay for the cure of ordered the supervisors to pay for the cure or a patient at a gold cure establishment. The law in question gave a Judge the power in cases where a prisoner had been convicted of trunksnness a certain number of times, to impose a sentence of two years in the House of Correction in Detroit, or to send him to a gold cure establishment. The Supreme four that week affirmed the conclitationality of that part of the law imposing imprisonment in the House of Correction.

Bandit Evans Sectioned to Imprisonment for Life, FRENC, Cal., Feb. 20.—Evans and Morrell were brought here early this morning and safely landed in jail. Evans was taken to court at 10 o'clock and eentenced by Judge Harris to imprisonment for life at Folsom penitentiary. He will leave here for Folsom on the noon train under a strong guard.

Tom Juhanen Says He Wen's Cher. CLEVELAND, Feb. 20.-Congressman Tom L. ohnson arrived in the city at noon to-day. He was followed from Washington by several hot messages from Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Ike Hill, which requested Mr. Johnson to consider himself under arrest for absenting himself during the session, and ordering himtorturn to Washington at once. Mr. Johnson declares he will do nothing of the hind.

SERMED TO RISE FROM DEATH. GROW'S GREAT PLURALITY.

> HE CARRIES PANNSTLYANIA BY MORE THAN 150,000.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

The Republican Candidate for Congressman at-Large Careted Into Office on the Fload

Tide of Anti-Wilson Bill Sentiment, PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.-Pennsylvania tolay voted for a Congressman at Large to serve the unexpired term in the present Congress of Gen. William Lilly (Rep.), who died on Dec. 1, 1803. This date was fixed upon by the Governor for the reason that this is the day for the regular spring election in the various cities and towns for municipal and borough officers.

The candidates are: Republicas, Galusha L. Grow; Democrat, James Denton Hancock; Pennsylvania Democracy, Arthur D. Markley; People's, Victor A. Lapler: Prohibition. Henry

F. Morrow. Mr. Grow, who, the Republicans claim, will have the largest majority ever given any candidate in the State, was a member of the national House of Representatives from the Thirty-second to the Thirty-seventh Congresses, inclusive, and was chosen Speaker of the Thirty-seventh Congress.

Litty was elected Congressman at Large in 1892 by a majority of 63,843. The vote in this city was surprisingly heavy for a spring election. It exceeds by nearly 10,000 the vote of last November, when State and county officers were chosen. The Republican majority in the city then was 53,000 and in the State 135,000. To-day it will reach about 60,000 in the city, which is the largest majority ever given in Phila-Returns from the State, outside of the city.

indicate that Grow, the Bepublican candidate, will have over 150,000 majority over Hancock, the Democratic nomines, which is the largest majority ever given in the State. Steady Democratic losses are shown in the returns from nearly all the townships and boroughs throughout the State on their local tickets as well as on the vote for Congressman at Large. For the first time in its history the city of Reading, in Berks county, an old-time Demo-eratic stronghold, passes into the complete control of the Republicans, and the city of Allentown, in Lehigh county, which has always been strongly Democratic, has also been carried by the opposite party. The Pennsylvania Democracy did not figure to any appreciable extent, their candidates having withdrawn several days before the They polled less than 1,000 votes in the city, and their strength in the State was infinitesi-mal. The Populists and Prohibitionists also showed up very poorly in the returns.

While the members of the Eleventh Ward Club were celebrating the Republican victory at their club house at 532 North Second street to-night, a frame annex built out from the second story collapsed, and between forty and fifty men were thrown to the ground, thirty feet below. Thirteen were badly hurt, and one of them will probably die. Allegheny county gives Grow 30,000 pla-rality, a Republican gain of 15,013.

SENATOR HILL VIOLATED THE RULE. Talk of Disciplining Mim for Muking Public

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. - Senator Hill has brought down on his head the wrath of some of the more serious-minded of his colleagues by his action in making public the speech which he delivered yesterday in executive session on the Supreme Court nomination. Some of the enthusiastic defenders of Senatorial etiquette are talking of the advisability of a resolution of censure upon Mr. Hill. Sections 3 and 4 of rule 36 of the Senate read:

All confidential communications made by the Prestdent of the United States to the senate shall be by the Senators and the officers of the Senate kept secret; and all treates which may be laid before the Senate, and all remarks, vetes, and proceedings thereon, shall all be kept secret until the Senate shall by their resolution take off the Bunntlein of secrecy, or unless the same shall be considered in open executive sention. Any Senator or other of the Senate who shall discloss the Senate shall be liable, if a Senator, to suffer expulsion from the body; and if an officer, te dismissal from the service of the Senate and to punishment for contempt.

There receme to be no doubt that Senator.

There seems to be no doubt that Senator Hill has violated this rule, but if he is to be punished for it it will be the first case of the kind in the history of the Senate. It is a fact, however, that the oldest Senator in the body cannot recall a previous case where a Senator has deliberately made public a verhatim report of his speech in executive session. The cuckoos in the Senate are shocked at the New York Senator's rashness, but it is not likely that any one of them will be so far sarried away by indignation as to move for Senator Hill's expulsion from the Senate. But in view of the fact that Senator Hill gave out his speech for publication without reservation or qualification of any kind, it is generally recognized that it is high time for the solemn Senators to abandon their task of attempting to learn how secret session news of the Senate becomes public.

WARLIKE GOV. OFERRALL,

He Asks for Men-of-war to Whip Maryland's Oyster Pirates. RICHMOND, Feb. 20.—Gov. O'Ferrall to-day sent a warlike message to the Legislature called forth by the recent fight in Tangler Sound between Maryland and Virginia oystermen. He began by referring to the fact that the cysters in Tangier and Pocomoke sounds, on the Maryland side, are very scarce, while the beds on the Virginia side are rich. For this reason, the Governor said, the dredgers from Maryland are determined, at all hazards, to make depredations on the Virginia beds.

He declared the statement that the Virginia landers was most humiliating to him, and he urged the Legislature to take steps at once to put him in a position to defend Virginia's honor and protect her interests.

When the Clerk of the House of Delegates read the Governor's peroration in which he asked if Virginia would tamely submit to the high-handed lawlessness of Maryland marauders, there were vigorous cries of "Neverl never!" The message in conclusion recommends the passage at once of an act authorizing the construction of two steam menof-war, armed with guns of improved pattern addong range. The matter was referred to the Committee on the Chesapeake.

A spanking team of black cobs caused coniderable excitement in Broadway, between Forty-second and Thirty-third streets, at 10% o'clock last night. They were harnessed to a brougham, and there was no sign of a driver. The horses dodged several cable cars and at Thirty-third street knocked a coupé clear of their road. At Sixth avenue and Thirtieth street they ran into an elevated railroad post and were thrown.

One of the horses died half an hour later. Shortly before midnight the owner of the team turned up at the Tenderion station. He was hawin Childs, a liveryman of 110 West Fortyninth street.

He said the brougham collided with a truck at Forty-fifth street and the coachman was thrown into a snow bank. The brougham was unoccupied and the coachman was unoccupied and the coachman was not burt.

Far Rocksway Has a Meteor. A meteor, described as about the size of a twenty-four-pound cannon ball, rushed through the sky at Far Rockaway as the passengers and crew of the midnight train were hurrying from the station to their homes in the village on Monday night during a thunder storm. Conductor & C. Squires was at the head of the little group, and the meteor, it is need or the little group, and the meteor, it is declared. "thundered close over his head" and struck the ground some distance away. It is said to have ploughed a furrow in the ground. It was some time before Conductor Squires recovered from the shock to his nerves. Yesterday several persons, it is said, with picks and shovels endeavored to unsarth the ma.cor, but were unable to discover amything.

GEORGE SWORN FOR 'STELL. CHARMING EPISODS IN THE MOON. SBINE AND MORPHINE TRIAL

Defendant Freid Tentilles that He Married Estelle in a Hurry Brenuss She Said " Now or Never," and that He Never Gave Her Any Drug - Harrying Up the Minister.

Far Rockaway intrusted its most precious sion yesterday to the New York Court of amon Pleas. It was the telegraph operato n the Far Rockaway station of the Long Island oad, and he was in Judge Bise Court as a rebutting witness; the object of his ony being to contradict the statements made by the cab driver and others who testi-fied, on Monday, that on her wedding night Mrs. Estelle Pettit-Freid was "all right." case had almost reached a conclusion, the teswhen the plaintiff, Miss Pettit, as she insists upon being called, called the young operator in rebuttal. He was the last witness of the but he will long remain first in the minds of these whose rare pleasure it was to hear bim. His name is George Cannes. His nair was long and dressed pompadour; his trou-sers were freshly creased, and he wore a delicate thread of a black moustache. What Mr. Cannes testified to on direct examination by Mr. Honeyman was that he saw Wiss Pettit, whom he referred to as "'Stell." at about 2 o'clock on the night of Aug. 26 ast, her wedding night, after she had arrived at Far Hockaway. "She was walking along an escort," said the witness, softly, waving his head gently backward and forward. "and I just said to her. 'Why, 'Stell,' I said,
'what in the world do you mean by being out so late at night? But 'Stell, she never answered me at all, but just held her head down and walked right out of the depot." Did you see Mr. Freid assist his wife from the car?" asked Mr. Honeyman, tenderly.

"Yea, I just did," responded the witness. Well, how did he do it?"

Why, he just held up both of his hands like that," the witness answered, raising his hands aloft, as if he held in them the ends of an apron in which he expected to catch some-Then Lawyer Fromme addressed the witness in cross-examination, and at times spoke to him severely. He first asked him:

Did you make any further inquiry as to why Miss Pettit was out so late that night, or why she did not answer you?"
"Yes," said the witness, "I asked May about it next day, when I saw May, but she didn't how: any way, she didn't tell me."

By May, do you mean Miss Hasbrouck?"

Yes, "said the witness coyly."

"Well, why do you call her May?"

"Because I asked her one time to call me by

"Yes," said the witness coyly.

"Well, why do you call her one time to call me by my first name."

"Well, what is your first name."

"George," said the witness, in a tone that caused Judge Bischoff to bend so far over his deek, in a pretence of writing, that no one could see his face.

"And does she call you George?"

"No: she calls me by my aickname."

"Well, what is your nickname."

"And does she call; you George?"

"No: she calls me by my aickname."

"Well, what is your nickname."

"Well, what is your nickname."

"And the head a little forward so that his eyes were very much rolled up as he regarded Mr. Fromme and uttered, in a melting tone, the one word, "Ruby."

The spectators, all of whom had been holding their breath in anticlipation of this precious discovery, exploded in roars of laughter.

The post carry in continuing his testimony, said that his own roars of laughter as he did by pounding his deak for order.

"Ruby." in continuing his testimony, said that his was very foggy; he knew it because he read a message going over the wires which told about a collision near Long Island City which had been caused by the fox.

"The nyou doe't know of your own knowledge," said Mr. Fromme. You only know what some telegraph operator would tell astory."

The day's proceedings opened with the testimony of a drug clerk who saw Mr. Freid and answered: Whr, I don't suppose a telegraph operator would tell astory.

The day's proceedings opened with the testimony of a drug clerk who saw Mr. Freid and answered: Whr, I don't suppose a telegraph operator would tell astory.

The day's proceedings opened with the testimony of a drug clerk who saw Mr. Freid and answered: Whr, I don't suppose a telegraph operator would tell astory.

The day's proceedings opened with the testimony of a drug clerk who saw Mr. Freid and answered: Whr, I don't suppose a telegraph operator would tell astory.

The day's proceedings opened with the tes about the circumstances, for herrantif sheauty that he had no eyes for anything eise. Then the defendant himself was called to the stand. His direct examination was brief and emphatic. He stated that he was married to "Estelle." He did not give her any morphine or any other drug on the night of their marriage, or at any other time. On the Saturday of their marriage, Aug. 20, he went to Far Rockaway, where Estelle met him at the depot, "and she grabted me and kissed me nil over." Then she told him that Mabel, meaning Miss Hasbrouck, had told her mother. Mrs. Pettit that he was a Jew, and that that had made Mrs. Pettit very angry. They went riding at Far Rockaway that afternoon, and during the course of the ride Estelle had urged him to marry her that night.

She said: Now or never!" exclaimed the witness. She said if we were not married then wr never would be."

Then he briefly told the story of their night trip to Brocklyn, of their visiting the drug store, where he looked up the address of his foreman, Mr. Biumenstock, whom he expected to secure as a witness to their marriage. They did, in fact, secure his foreman's wife. They were married as has been told, and returned to the Fettit house in Far Rockaway, where she retired to her bedroom, and he to his.

Then Lawyer Honeyman began a cross-ex-amination, which lasted three hours. The witness said that he had objected to a secret marriage, but Estelle had given him assurance by stating that they were only going to do what her father and mother had done, as their had been a runaway mutch. At the minister's house the bride had expressed a wish to be married to him to had on ring, and one that she had was used.

Was it a gold ring " asked Mr. Honeyman. "Well, I am not sure that it was gold, "answered the witness doubtfully.

Their troubles began early the next morning, witness arose and decised as 0 elock and sites chailing all the while with the girls. Put troubles began early the next morning. With a serving the with the sirls, witness the witness deare the house

Then did rou go down to breakfast?"

asted Mr. Honeyman.

No. answered the witness; "my wife brought my breakfast to my room;"

Why did you not go down to breakfast?"

Well, answered the witness, slowly, shaklag his head. I heard what my mother-in-law had said about me, and I did not want to meet br.

In the afternoon be had asked his wife to go out driving, and sent her to the house (they were in the grove keeping away from his mother-in-law! for her coat and hat. When she sturned she reported that the family row was actively formented by "May." and he legical his wife to go to her parents and conless their marriage, but she would not do so. So he roturned to New Fork. The next day he was sent for by a Brooklyn attorney hamed clifford, who told him that his wife's lather and mother had visited Minister Bowdish and were raising the question as to the spatiality of the marriage. The witness called on the minister and asked for his good offices in stringing him (the witness) and his wife together.

I told the minister that money was no ob-

I told the minister that money was no ob-set in this matter." said the witness.
Did you as a narghing size to him to spur him on in reuniting you and your wife?" I don't know what you mean by that." Did you tell the minister that you had been intimate with your wife?"

I did."

I did."

I did."

Why did you tell him that?"

The ause." answered the witness, "the liveause." to make confession.

9-You are a lishesw, are you not? A.—I am,

Y-You proises the lishersw religion? A.—I do.,

Y-You you as tregular altendant at the synagegue?

A-well. I may not be a regular attendant.

9-Be you consider it proper, according to the teasts.

Your religion, to marry that word of girl!

The Court austained an objection to this Court sustained an objection to this on any your wife told her mother that if she

The New No. 4 Hume, with Boy Coil. $10. High-grade. Stretchisto, and best of all Ricetor Medical multiplies for physicists, patient, travelling or huma use. J. R. Sunnell & Co., 76 Cortlands at-den that long courtains were bad; but afterward there was another question than that of religion. It was a question of another young map who had been introduced into the house by Miss Hasbrouck and whom Mrs. Pettit considered a more desirable son-in-law.

Q.Miss Hasbrouck tried often to induce your wile? A.—bab did, and my wife always toid me of it.

Q.—Your wife is easily influenced? A.—bis is a very good natured gri.

Q.—Your wife is easily influenced? A.—She is a very good-natured girl.
Q.—She is kind of childish, is she not? A.—No. I would not say that; but she is not as clever as Miss Harbrouck.

co-deatured gri.

Q.—She is kind of childish, is she not ? A.—No. I would not say that; but she is not as clever as Miss Harbrouck.

The defence next called Mrs. Bowdish, the minister's wife, who told the familiar story of the midnight marriage, and teatified that she had heard Miss Pettit answer that she was 20 years old.

How do you know it was Miss Pettit gave that answer?

Well. I know that Dr. Bowdish would not ask Mrs. Blumenatock her age.

The next witness was Mr. Blumenatock, Mr. Yreld's foreman, who testified that he met Miss Pettit at Far Rockaway in Julr, a year before her marriage, and had tried to teach hor to ride the blorele. The point was brought out to contradlet the plaintiff, who had testified that she did not know Mr. Blumenatock.

Howard Freid, brother of the defendant, was the next witness. He said that he was on the bench at Far Rockaway the Sunday after his brother was married, when Miss Pettit and his brother was married, when Miss Pettit and told him of their marriage.

"She tried to kiss me," said the witness, but she was kind of bashful because there were other girls looking on. I congratulated bet on her wedding, and she told me not to talk so loud because May' was there and would 'tell mamma."

The witness said that the vest belonged to him, and not to his brother, which was found in his brother's room, and from the pockets of which it has been testified some papers said to contain morphine powders were taken. The witness said that he had never had any morphine powders, and didn't know what they were.

Then Mrs. Blumenstock, the witness to the marriage.

were.
Then Mrs. Blumenstock, the witness to the marriage ceremony, testified. She said that while they were waiting in the minister's partor Miss Pettit, the victim of morphine, had exclaimed: "Oh, I wish he would hurry up."
Did she appear to be under any restraint?" for Allss Pettlt. The victim with the would hurry up."

Did she appear to be under any restraint?"

asked defendant's lawyer.

"Why, certainly she was straight," answered the witness indignantly.

The case went over until to-day.

HOKE SMITH'S PASTRY COOK.

Some of His Constituents Think He Misuses Pederal Patronage to Secure Hor.

as Ed had been such a cantankerous Republi-is that the Journal, which has beretofore prominently announced all of the Secretary of the Interior's appointments, has never referred to this appointment. The whole transaction has been conducted very sliently at this end, and would have escared detection but for the fact that Martha was so proud of her pastry cook appointment and of her husband's promotion by a Democratic Administration that she told of it among her friends.

MORGAN UPHOLDS STEVENS.

Rts Report on Hawatt Considered Infor

final conclusions and findings make four type-written pages. It is understood that Mr. Morgan blames with the traditional customs and under the general instructions issued to diplomatic agents placed in the position where Mr. Stevens found himself. It is further understood that Mr. Morgan holds that by her act in attempting to overthrow the constitution the Queen herself incited a revolution, and a revolution being under way the people arose and put her out of power. So far as Mr. Willie is concerned, Mr. Morgan believes he did exactly as he was directed to do, and was therefore free from blams if any blame was to be attached to his acts. The authority of the President to appoint a Commissioner Paramount, it is understood, is not disputed, and no criticism is levelled at the Administration, because its acts were based upon the report of the Commissioner sent to the islands to represent the President.

The Republicans, it is thought, while not concading all that Mr. Morgan's report contains, will agree with him in much. They will doubtless file a supplemental report, in which they will non-concur in some of his statements. Mr. Gray, and possibly one or two other Democratic members of the full committee, it is said, will not accept Mr. Morgan's report as it now stands and will also supplement it by criticism on the acts of Minister Stevens and the late Administration. When the Hawilian matter comes before the Senate upon these reports all the correspondence up to date will be arranged in chronological order, accompanied by a topical ladex, as Mr. Morgan yesterday introduced a resolution to that effect.

A FAITHFUL HOUND.

its Mouruful Howls Attracted a Saarchit Party to Its Muster's Body. A dog's howls in the woods attracted a searching party that had set out from Islip late on Monday night to find William Poyses who had left his home in the morning to bring back a load of wood. The searchers pene-trated the wood and came to Doxsee's wagon trated the wood and came to Doxsee's wagon wedged fast between two trees. On the ground lay the motionless form of the man they were looking for, while stretched across the body was his hound howling mouraluly. The man had been dead several hours, and the dog was almost frozen.

When the body was put into the wagon the dog leaned in after it, and resumed its watch until the house was reached. From the most-tron in which the team and body were found it is thought Doxsee was thrown from the wagon and died from injuries he received. He was till years old, and leaves a wife and five children.

ATLANTA, Feb. 20.-An evening paper publishes the following: "Martha Persons is the name of a wellknown pastry cook here whose service Secre-tary Hoke Smith wished to engage when he transferred his residence to Washington. She Republican negroes in the city. Before leav-Martha that she accompany him in the capacity of pastry cook. She said she would go, but not even the lofty position of chief pastry cook of the Interior Department could tempt her to leave her husband. Secretary Smith offered to overcome this by getting work for Ed in Washington, but his dusky spouse expressed her doubts as to this,

WARHINGTON, Feb. 20.-Although the Senate Sub-committee on Foreign Affairs, which met aturday to hear Mr. Morgan's report on the Hawaiian investigation, adjourned until to-morrow, much of yesterday was employed by Senators in Mr. Morgan's room in an informal discussion of the report. The report Mr. Mor gan has prepared is an extensive review of the testimony taken before the committee, and touches largely upon the commercial history and value of the islands in connection with their United States trade. The policy of an-nexation is discussed at length. Mr. Morgan's neither Mr. Willis nor Mr. Stevens. Referring to Mr. Stevens's action, it is understood Mr. Morgan agrees that he acted in accordance with the traditional customs and under the general instructions issued to diplomatic shoot him on the spot," wrote John A. Dix, when he was Secretary of the Treasury, to Liant Caldwell, in command of a revenue cutter at New Orleans in 1861. Mr. Joseph Schultz of Guttenburg, who adopted this country as his own a number of years ago, has dopted the motte, "If any man insults the American flag, hit him on the nose." As a consequence of carrying out his principles, Mr. Schultz was on trial in the Court of Sessions in Jersey City Monday, accused of manslaughter. When THE SUN went to press yesterday morning the jury in the case were still out. It remained out until 11 o'clock yesterday morning, when it reported to Judge Hudspeth that it was unable to agree, and the Judge discharged it. The jury stood cleven for conviction of plain assault and battery and one for conviction of manslaughter. It is not true that the news was telegraphed to Minister Willis at Honolulu with a warning that it wouldn't be safe for him to come to Jersey when he gets back to the United States. Schultz is out on insignificant ball, and very probably he will never have to go to court again.

Frank Kreiger, the man Schultz was accused of killing, was a sympathizer with Anarchists. He couldn't have been a real Anarchist, for the row began in a barber shop, and it came out in the evidence that Kreiger had just had his hair cut. The story of the affair, as told by patriotic Mr. Schuitz himself, was that he and Kreiger were the last customers the barber had that night, and they stayed behind and drank beer with the proprietor of the shop. Then he said "After we went out Kreiger asked me 'What do you think of the pardon granted the Chito him, 'Well, I don't think much of it. They de you think of the pardon granted the Chicago Anarchists by Gov. Aligeld? And I said to him. 'Weil, I don't think much of it. They ought to have been kept in jail and never lat out.' He didn't like that, and he said. 'Yah, it's fine liberty there is in this country. What d'ye call liberty, any way? and I said to him. 'Liberty is the right of every man to the ballot and freedom of speech within the law.' He sneered at that and then we began talking about the American fing. I said it was a giorious fing, and he said. 'Look at here, you are going too far. I give you fair warning. If you say that again 'I'll slap year face.' Then he said again. 'That rag? Damn that rag.' I couldn't stand that, and I slapped him on the nose. He tumbled over, and I left him in disgust.'

Kreiger was picked up a few minutes after he was knocked down and he was taken home. Where he died of a fractured skull some days later. People in Jersey hate Anarchists, and just how it happened that Schuitz was indicted at all is not explained. The indignation in the city over the fact that one jurer stood out for conviction for manslaughter was strong. One of the influential local papers printed this comment on it in the afternoon:

"The sury retired at noon Monday, remaining out until II o'clock yesterday, when they were discharged by Judge Hudspeth, after he was assured that they could not agree. It is believed that eleven jurors were from the outset in favor of a verdict of assault and battery, and that the twelfth juror stood out for manslaughter. It was said to-day at the Court House that this juror was a seressionist during the late rebellion, and that he became enraged at the glowing tribute paid the American flag by exJudge Hoffman when he summed up the case for Schultz, and that his feelings of resentment induced him to stick from first to last for manslaughter, to get even with exJudge Hoffman when he summed up the case for Schultz, and that his feelings of resentment induced him to stick from first to last for manslengther, to get even

This the patriotic Warden considered too easy labor for such a orime, and as he was having a well dug he put this Anarchist at the bottom of it and made him dig.

The fellow kept at it for three weeks, and one day when the Warden looked down the well to see how the work was getting on the Anarchist roared up: "Say, you, how deep do you want me to go?"

"Till you strike China, dang you! When you get there, yell up."

When the Anarchist finished his six months he was a reformed man. He was the last man who tackled the flag before Kreiger.

CUICAGO MEN DON'T LIKE IT.

They're Up in Arms Against Girl Teacher for Chinese in Sunday Schools. CHICAGO, Feb. 20 .- Last night about 100 Chinamen entertained as many Chicago wo-men at the First Presbyterian Church, Twentyfirst street and Indiana avenue, and to-day there is an "Anti-Chinese Sunday School Soc ety" in town, organized for business. Dr. J. W. Carr of 2,106 Wabash avenue is the leader.

ety" in town, organized for business. Dr. J. W. Carr of 2,106 Wabash avenue is the leader, and he has many followers. The society proposes to agitate against the custom of allowing young girls to act as teachers in Sunday schools where each Chinaman has a teacher to himself.

Last night's entertainment was the Chinese Sunday school New Year sociable. The church was crowded, young girls and women being everywhere surrounded by Chinamen whose faces expressed every degree of dissipation. Mock Moon, the local Chinese loader, was there. He had been arrested and released the same day. He is President of the Chinese Christian Endeavor Society. He says that he was arrested because he refused last week to give a policeman acitar. At present there are forty pupils in the school and each pupil has a separate teacher, all but five women. The five Chinese who are detailed to men teachers complain bitterly. That the young women take a deep interest in their charges was shown last night. One little miss of fourteen was enthusiantic over the Chinaman she has been teaching. "Oh, he's just lovely," she declared, "and he is as gentle as a child. You don't know how grateful he is—they all are—and on Christmas we received beautiful presents of silk searfs and hand-made slippers and now they have tendered us a hanguet."

Dr. Carr said; "As a physician I have had much opportunity of studying the habits of our Chinese residents and I know that among those in the church to-night are men who are given to the most degrading practices. It makes my blood boil to think that our young first whose characters are just forming, should be placed under the contaminating influence of those fleats. This plan of having girl teachers for the Chinamen was tried in New York, and the world knows the results if the Chinese must have women teachers, let them be matrons. No more young girl teachers for Chinamen is my motto, and the town is with me, too."

FAIR OF A PET DOG.

He Frightened His Mistress in Union Squar Han Away, and Was Shot, A pet dog that was being led down Broad way yesterday afternoon by a lady showed signs of excitement at Seventeenth street. His hair became ruffled, and he seemed to foam at the mouth. The lady promptly dropped the the mouth. The lady promptly dropped the leash, and the dog darted ahead. People shouted at him and ran, which excited him all the more. The throngs of women scattered, and some of them ran into stores. The dog make se attempt to bite anybedy.

The excitement went on increasing and so did the number of people shouting at the dog. The frightened dog, with the leash trailing behind him, tore down froadway to Fourteenth street and then up fourth avenue. People got out of his war. At Fifteenth street he ran into the institution for the savings of Merchants Clerks. He was still barking and foaming at the mouth.

Policeman Cruise, who had been taking part in the chase, came up and from the doorway fired a builet into the dog's body. The dog was knocked over, but recovered and began crawing toward the policeman. He had got two feet when he received two more builets in his body, and they settled him. Afterwards the ordered expressed pity at his fate. What became of the lady was had been leading him to be the sand who had been leading him to be successed.

BELDEN'S MAN FAR BEHIND.

AMOS, REPUBLICAN INDEPENDENT, RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF SYRACUSE.

The Regular Republican Candidate, Kline, Was 8,000 Votes Behind, but the Bomoeratte Candidate Was Within 878 of the Successful Man-Meaning of the Result. STRACUBE, Feb. 20 .- Mayer Jacob Amos was redected to-day by a plurality of 275 over Duncan W. Peck, Dem., and Jay B. Kline, regular Republican. The election was more bittarly contested than was ever a local contest in this city before. It was a struggle for su-for themselves. Encouraged by what happened to-day they will undoubtedly go before the State for recognition, and in the next State Convention will ask for representation as the regular organization.

The total vote cast was as follows: Amos.

Republican Gain in J.ff.reon County. UTICA, Feb. 20.-Town meetings were held in Jefferson county to-day outside of Watertown City.

Sixteen Republican and six Democratic Su-pervisors were elected, a Republican gain of one.

SLASHED HIS FATHER'S THROAT.

Twenty-two Filiches Needed to Close the Cashes Made by Herman Tatel.

early from ear to ear. He had told yesterday by Thiel. He said:

will probably recover.

have himself.

that time.

John Thiel, a cabinetmaker, 40 years old, of After wounding his father, Herman jumped nost into the street. He had on neither coat or trousers. The police are trying to arrest him, although his father declares that no one in the family shall make a complaint against im, and that he can come home if he will be-

There are two versions of the fight. One was

"I have always tried to establish the rule that my children should be in the house at 7,802; Peck, 7,527; Kline, 4,833, premacy between Congressman James J. Belden and his opponents in the Republican party, and as the latter have won, the Con-gressman's candidate, Kline, being the third nan in the race, the consequences of the election will probably be far reaching. The followers of ex-Collector Francis Henwent up to the executive chamber the gather-ing on the steps rushed into the building, fil-ing Doric Hall and the corridors. Their ob-ject was to present a petition to the Legisladricks. Howard G. White and others, revolted rom the regular organization controlled by Congressman Belden and set up in business jent was to present a petition to the Legisla-ture.

Swift, the leader of the crowd, standing in the corridor near the House door, remarked that if the suggestion made in the Governor's speech were not earried out every man sitting on that floor would be cleaned out. Pensons who heard him took the remark to the Gov-ernor, who immediately came out into the corridor and told Swift that if he did not re-tract that statement he would have the whole crowd put out of the State House. Swift imme-diately tried to excuse himself by saying that he meant "that they would clean them out by ballots."

The Governor told him that the remark he ITHAMAR HOWE LOSES. Failed to Prove That Isane O. Woodraff Allenated Mrs. Howe's Affections.

Ithamar Howe, whose suit for $50,000 damages against Isaac O. Woodruff, the Maiden lane druggist, for alienating his wife's affections, has been on trial since Feb. 8 in Part III. of the Supreme Court before Justice Ingraham, lost his case yesterday. In 1890, Mr. Woodruff, who was a widower.

The total vote cast was as follows: Amos, 7.802; Peck, 7.527; Kline, 4.833.

The reclection of Mayor Amos, besides being a signal defeat for Belden, is also a very pronounced expression of local disapproval of Mr. Platt. Up to the time of the Republican Convention at Syracuse which nominated Edward T. Bartlett for Judge of the Court of Appeals. Mr. Belden and Mr. Platt had not been very effinmmy. There was no outward friction between them, but Mr. Belden had highly disapproved of the nomination of J. Sloat Fassett at Rochester two years before, and he did not, it is said, ralse his hand to help young Fassett, the friend of Mr. Platt. Senator Hendricks frankly told Mr. Fassett at Rochester that he did not believe it was a good year for Fassett to run for Governor. Mr. Hendricks told this to Mr. Fassett before his nomination because he was aware that he was slated to succeed Mr. Fassett as Collector of the Fort of New York under the Harrison Administration. Fassett disregarded the advice of Senator Hendricks, and what followed everybody knows. Mr. Hendricks has always been known as one of the shrewdest leepublicans in his party, and in the campaign he did very material work to ald Fassett. At the last Syracuse Convention, according to Mr. Hendricks's friends, Mr. Platt disregarded the services of Mr. Hendricks, and joined hands with Mr. Belden in determining a factional warfare among the delegates of Onondaga county. Mr. Hendricks and joined hands with Mr. Belden in determining a factional warfare among the delegates favorable to his side of the controversy were regularly elected. He protested that the Stepatos frequently called on Mr. Platt at the Yates House and submitted evidence that the Celegates favorable to his side of the controversy were regularly elected, and in the argument he was supported by many well-known Bepublicans in Onondaga county. Yet Mr. Flatt practically sided with Belden when he declared that the delegation should be half and half. Mr. Hendricks was so angry about this matter that he left was also at the club house and it is not disputed that, as one witness put it, "she played with all the boys." Mr. Woodruff met her that with all the boya." Mr. Woodruff met her that summer and in November he invited her and her husband to visit aim at his home in Willia avenue in this city. Mr. Howe did not come, but Mrs. Howe did.

Howe alleged that Mr. Woodruff stele Mrs. Howe's affections and led her away from her duty to her husband. Mr. Woodruff, he said, had taken Mrs. Howe to theatres and stayed out late. On And. 9, 1869, he had laid himself, and Mrs. Howe especially, open to suspicion of ill doing, and again on June 1, 1891.

Howe also produced letters, the contents of which, he alleged, pointed to improper relations between Mrs. Howe and Mr. Woodruff. Justice Ingraham decided that it had not been proved that the letters were written by Woodruff.

Andrew H. Glesson, a member of the club, spoiled the June I incident by testifying that he had Mr. Woodruff in sight all that day, and Mrs. Woodruff's family and Mrs. Higbes, who is now Mr. Woodruff's wife, spoiled the other parts of Mr. Howe's atory.

Yesterday was spent in summing up the case. It went to the jury at 3:45 o clock and at 5:46 the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

Mr. Woodruff is not going to have Mr. Howe

STOKES BEATS MACKAY AGAIN.

A Verdict for $91,500 this Time to Favor of the Plaintiff.

sum of money laid away somewhere. For years she had the job of scrubbing the floors at the Chambers Street Hospital.
She was seen on Monday climbing up stairs

Brooklyn Has a Mas who Has Been Suf-fering for Nearly Six Weaks. Abraham Bach, who lives on the Easter Parkway near Bockaway avenue in the Brownsville district in Brooklyn, has been suf-that my children should be in the house at night by 10 o'clock. But Herman is disobedient. He came in last night at 11 o'clock, and I was scolding him about it. That was the cause of the dispute. I was in bed when he came, and I got up and talked to him about his disobedience. He talked back to me in an imputent manner, and I boxed his ears several times. I then thought the matter settled, and was just getting in bod again, when Herman sprang upon me and cut my throat. He had gone into the other room and got an old rager."

The other story was gathered by Policeman James H. Greene of the Charles are et station just after Thiel was wounded. He said that Thiel was scolding his wife when Herman got home and that the boy interfered. Thereupon Thiel threw a water pitcher at him. Herman dodged and went out on the fire escance. Presently he returned, and, according to Policeman Oreene, found his mother lying on the floor and his father threatening to strike her. To protect his mother he attacked his father with the razor. YOUNG SCAMPS ROBUED THE ALTAR sold to a Junkunn the Candelabra from St.

The fathers of St. Francis of Assisi Roman Catholic Church in West Thirty-first street, near Seventh avenue, have been mystified for en days past over the disappearance of the candelabra from one of the altars. No less than fourteen pieces have disappeared during roungster trying to force open a window in the basement with an ice pick. The pricats determined then that the candelabra were atolan by some of the boys in the neighborhood. Father licek reported the thefts to the West Thirtieth street station house, and Detective Kash was detailed to hout up the thieves. Last evening the church was open for concession and the detective was on hand. He concessed himself in one of the confessional boxes and awaited developments. Soon four youngsters, between the ages of 7 and 10, entered the church. Each saw one making his way to the altar, and collared him just as he was reaching for one of the candelabra. The others flet.

Last Saturday the sexton discovered a youngster trying to force open a window in

The little fellow was taken into the vestry and gave information which may lead to the recovery of the candelabra. He gave the names of the boys who had taken them, and Kash went outland got them. They said that some of the stolen goods had been sold to a junkman in West Thirty-first street for a cent apiece. Each denied having stolen the candelabra. It was learned that they were stolen after the service by boys secreted in the church, who carried them out under their coats.

Capt. Cross of the East Fifth street police station raided the Hotel Sanford at Third aveaus and Eighth street last night, where he arrested the manager. Henry Price, 18 men and rested the manager, nearly research and and 3 women. He shee arrested 20 men and 2 women at 7 Third avenue.

The police of the West Thirtieth street station arrested May Beeves and Rosa Holden last night on warrants issued by Juntice liyan for keeping discorderly flats, the former in West Thirty-eighth street and the latter in West Thirty-third street.

In now the leading and best table best .- den